

Privacy Statement for CIPROZA Web Site

December 2012

We may use your IP address to help administer our website, for all who visit the CIPROZA site. During registration, we collect contact information such as name, address, telephone number and email addresses. This information is used to help with payment processing and also to assist you in using the system with repeat visits. CIPROZA may use this information to contact you, to answer queries, inform you of any change of service or special offers that are relevant to your profile.

This site has links to additional sites and companies, CIPROZA cannot be held responsible for their privacy policies or services rendered.

CIPROZA agrees not to sell or rent the email addresses of any registered members to any third party, unless prior consent has been received. CIPROZA will not disclose your information unless requested by law with appropriate supporting documents, or to protect the interests of the members.

This site may offer registered users access to public forum debate areas, please remember that this information is public and you should exercise caution when offering information.

Any member of the public who receives communication from CIPROZA, may ask for their email address to be removed from the mailing list by sending an email to the contact email on our "Contact us" page of our web site or by emailing help@ciproza.co.za with the subject "unsubscribe".

If you have any questions about this privacy statement, please contact us through the contact information provided on the "Contact us" web page.